TEN MOST IMPORTANT PUBLICATIONS

1. Chapman S. Public Health Advocacy and Tobacco Control: Making Smoking History. Oxford: Blackwell, 2007. ISBN 9781405161633 [Citations:338]
1a: Japanese translation (2009) by Eiji Yano. Tokyo: Shino Harashinsha Co ISBN 978-4-88412-332-1

Comment: 155,000 words in two parts. The first analyses the most important tasks facing global tobacco control in the 21st Century. The second is an A-Z practical guide to tobacco control strategy.

Reviews: “Throughout his career, Simon Chapman has viewed the field of tobacco control from 30,000 feet with some of the most penetrating insights academicians have to offer. Yet he’s also battled in the trenches, leading the troops in creative and intelligent assaults on a true Goliath of an enemy. A voracious consumer of everything Chapman authors, I was fascinated, educated, and occasionally entertained by this broad and deep “manual” of how to do tobacco control in the 21st century.”

Kenneth E. Warner, Dean and Avedis Donabedian Distinguished University Professor School of Public Health, University of Michigan

“Simon Chapman’s analysis provides the road map of what needs to be done, how it needs to be done and that it needs to be done with a sense of urgency. It is a required reading for all those who want to make a difference in the lives of many, especially our children.”

Jeffrey Wigand, MA, Ph.D., MAT, Sc.D. aka “The Insider”

2. Chapman S, Lupton D. The Fight for Public Health: Principles and Practice of Media Advocacy. London: British Medical Journal Books, 1994. 260pp ISBN 0-7279-0849-9. [Citations:358]

Comment: When published, one of only two international texts on public health advocacy. Named four years later by a writer in the Lancet as one of two books that should be read by anyone wanting to communicate more effectively with the press. (Lancet 1998;351:1596)

“We would send out a book list, of two books. The first [would be] Strunk and White’s The Elements of Style. The second would be The Fight for Public Health. This under used book ... shows how a little understanding of media processes becomes a powerful tool for public health – from article in Lancet 1998;351:1596 on how doctors can better communicate with the public.

3. Chapman S. Over our dead bodies: Port Arthur and the fight for gun law reform. Sydney: Pluto, 1998. 218pp. ISBN 1 86403 037 2 [Citations:89] reprinted in Feb 2013 by Sydney University Press 277pp

Comment: Detailed analysis of the advocacy process that preceded and followed the 1996 Port Arthur massacre, leading to radical changes in Australia’s gun laws.

“The publication of this book confirms Simon Chapman’s place as Australia’s pre-eminent public health lobbyist and has lessons for every country in the world ...” Review in: Aust NZ J Public Health 1999;23:110.

“... a model to some of us in the criminal justice field of how to move beyond research and scholarship, into advocacy for change.” Review in: Current Issues in Criminal Justice 1999;10:330–3.

“He lays bare the bones of advocacy on both sides of the gun control debate and shows that understanding the opposition and getting the facts right are key to any public health change. If he ever wants a new career he could star as a general; until then I am glad he is wearing the white hat.” Review in BMJ 1999;319:1999.

4. Freeman B, Chapman S, Rimmer M. Review: The case for plain packaging of tobacco products. Addiction 2008; 103:580–590. [Citations:268]

Comment: The most cited paper on tobacco plain packaging, preceded the passage of historic legislation in Dec 2011.

5. Chapman S, Mackenzie R. The global research neglect of unassisted smoking cessation: causes and consequences. PLoS Medicine 2010; 7(2): e1000216. doi:10.1371/journal.pmed.1000216 Citations:341; 64,717 views + 127 on [ResearchGate =64,844 at Jun 20, 2026].

Comment: Widely discussed critique of the research neglect of unassisted smoking cessation and the dominance of medicated approaches.

6. Chapman S, Borland R, Brownson R, Scollo M, Dominello A, Woodward S. The impact of workplace smoking bans on declining cigarette consumption in Australia and the USA. Am J Public Health 1999;89:1018–23. [Citations:338]

Comment: Meta-analysis of all studies examining the impact on continuing smoking from workplace smoking bans. Named in list of ten most important papers on passive smoking.

7. Chapman S, St George A, Waller K, Cacic V. The pattern of complaints about Australian wind farms does not match the establishment and distribution of turbines: support for the psychogenic, ‘communicated disease’ hypothesis. PLoS One 8(10): e76584. doi:10.1371/journal.pone.0076584 16 Oct 2013 [Citations: 123]

Comment: Hugely disruptive paper to the case made by wind farm opponents for turbines being a direct cause of health problems,

8. Chapman S, Alpers P, Jones M. Association between gun law reforms and intentional firearm deaths in Australia, 1979–2013 JAMA; 2016 published online 22 Jun 2016. [244,030 views; citations:136]

Comment: Named by New Yorker as one of 5 most notable medical research reports of 2016 Editorial + Washington Post + New York Magazine

9. Chapman S, Carter SM. “Avoid health warnings on all tobacco products for just as long as we can”: a history of Australian tobacco industry efforts to avoid, delay and dilute health warnings on cigarettes. Tobacco Control 2003; 12 (Suppl 3): iii13–iii22. [Citations:155]

Comment: I think this is the best example of 29 papers using previously private tobacco industry papers which I have published.

10. Chapman S, Wong WL, Smith W. Self-exempting beliefs about smoking and health: smoker and ex-smoker differences in a low socio-economic sample. Am J Public Health 1993;83:215–9. [Citations:295]

Comment: First paper to introduce concept of the “self-exempting belief” into studies of smoking behaviour.
